

et al

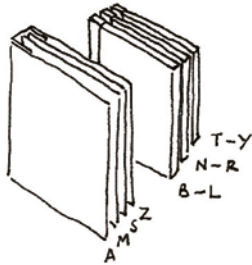

12pp, 190 x 150, inkjet on white cartridge and buff manilla cover, sewn pamphlet; Axminster, 2005.

cover, inside cover, p.1, p.3-5 / p.6-11

glossary

alphabet, a complete set of letters to make words.
black, a colour, example: coal.
blind, unable to see.
blue, a colour, example: sky.
book, a group of pages joined along one edge.
brown, a colour, example: mud.
city, a large-sized group of inhabited buildings.

clear, having no colour.
colour, the primary visible quality of a surface.
deaf, unable to hear.
dictionary, a book of words and their meanings.
domestic, everyday household matters.
drawing, a picture made of marks left by an implement.
field, a single area with defined edges.
fog, air made opaque with moisture.
green, a colour, example: grass.

hut, a small often wooden building of simple form.
inventory, a list of all things in a place.
loud, sound of large quantity.
mist, air made translucent with moisture.
page, a side of one leaf in a book.
painting, a picture made of marks applied via an implement.
poem, a piece of writing with regard to sound or shape.
potato, potato.

quiet, sound of small quantity.
red, a colour, example: blood.
silent, absent of sound.
space, emptiness between things.
town, a medium-sized group of inhabited buildings.
vignette, a picture without perceptible edges.
village, a small-sized group of inhabited buildings.
white, a colour, example: chalk.
word, an arrangement of letters with a meaning.
yellow, a colour, example: butter.